BASIS FOR THE CHARGING LIEN

1. Podhurst Orseck, P.A. (“Podhurst”) satisfies the requirements for an attorney’s charging lien under Florida law as to each of its above-listed former clients. See generally Daniel Mones, P.A. v. Smith, 486 So. 2d 559, 561 (Fla. 1986).

2. Podhurst had a signed contract for legal representation with each of its above-listed former clients for claims for damages against the National Football League arising out of head injuries they sustained while playing professional football. The contracts were signed and accepted by one or more Podhurst lawyers in Miami, Florida, such that Florida law governs the agreements.

3. Other law firms who referred the cases to Podhurst also appear on these contracts, and share in the contractual right to a fee. This Petition is intended to assert a lien on behalf of Podhurst along with its co-counsel law firms who appear on the contracts with the above-listed former clients.

4. The contracts expressly provided that Podhurst would be paid attorney's fees and reimbursed for reasonable costs expended on a contingency basis, out of any recovery earned for the client.

5. Podhurst and its co-counsel performed work on behalf of each of the above-listed former clients, including but not limited to some or all of the following: interviewing the client to gather information relevant to his claims, speaking with family members for the same purpose, collecting pertinent medical records, analyzing the client's standing for a claim, filing claims on their behalf in this multi-district litigation, updating them on the status of the litigation, fielding telephone calls with their questions about the case and potential benefits available under the settlement.

6. All of the above-listed former clients have served Podhurst with a notice of termination of employment.

7. These terminations were not for cause owing to any malfeasance by Podhurst or its co-counsel. Rather, many were communicated after the former client was solicited by competing law firms who offered to represent the clients for lower rates.

8. Although Podhurst has not yet sought to collect any fee from the above-listed former clients, it is presumed that they will dispute that they owe Podhurst or its co-counsel any compensation for the work done on their behalf.

9. This petition is being timely asserted in this action while it remains active, and the Court has reserved jurisdiction over the parties, their counsel, and all settlement class members, and to consider matters concerning attorneys' fees and costs. See ECF No. 6534, ¶¶ 15, 17.

Accordingly, Podhurst respectfully requests that the Court:

- (i) Determine its charging lien with respect to the above-listed former clients;
- (ii) Establish the amount of each such lien;
- (iii) Order that Podhurst be permitted to enforce its lien against the proceeds each of the above-listed clients may derive from the settlement reached in this action;
- (iv) Order that the Defendant, its insurer, and the Claims Administrator be prohibited from paying to each of the above-listed clients any such recovery under said lien has been satisfied; and
- (v) Grant such other relief as the Court deems just and appropriate.

Respectfully submitted,
